Farm-To-Market Roads Approved By Commissioners

Two farm-to-market roads were designated following petitions presented Monday at the commissioners court.

A petition signed by Clint Fouty and 64 others, asked for a farm-to-market road from Navarro via Hopewell cemetery, Cheneyford and then west to Highway 75. It was accepted and designated subject to the county allotment of funds.

Another petition signed by A. E. Rittner and others asked for a farm-to-market road from the cross roads south of Bryan, thence to Jester and south to Purdon. It was also designated by the court.

A bid of the Farmers Lumber Company for roofing two small houses at the county farm ($170) was accepted.

School Election

Returns from an April 16 proposed consolidation of schools were canvassed, showing the proposed consolidation of Powell and Phillips Chapel failed to be approved. Joe D. Huffstutter, county judge, said it was necessary for both school districts to approve the merger.

The returns showed that there were 29 to none for the proposal at the election in Powell, but those in the Phillips Chapel district turned down the proposal with five for and eight against the measure.

The monthly report of the Corsicana-Navarro Health unit was received and also the annual report of the home demonstration agent was received.

Payrolls were approved.

A bond call for the payment of $10,000 Navarro County Road District No. 1 bonds, issued June 1, 1948, and maturing, June 1, 1949, were called for payment.

Dr. Lord Wasn't Homosexual, Hester Says In Signed Voluntary Statement

CLEBURNE, May 2.—(AP)—Arthur Clayton Hester today signed a voluntary statement saying Dr. John Lord "was not a homosexual as I testified."

The 18-year-old youth was convicted Saturday of murdering the Texas Christian University dean and sentenced to 50 years in prison. Allegations of homosexuality—and Hester's testimony to unnatural acts with the slain dean—played a large part in the trial.

Today's statement was signed by Hester in the office of District Attorney John A. James. It said in part:

"I was afraid Mr. James would prosecute me again if I said I had lied during the trial. Dr. Lord was not a homosexual as I testified to and not at any time did he ever have an unnatural sexual relation with me or conduct himself in any manner that would lead me to believe he was a homosexual."

Hester, the trial doctor testified that he bludgeoned the educator to death because Dr. Lord broke a promise to lend him the Lord car if Hester would submit to an unnatural act. Hester testified that he had submitted to the unnatural act to gain use of the car and testified to other unnatural acts with Dr. Lord.

Dr. Lord's battered body was found in his lonely Burleson, Tex., farm home March 8. Hester was arrested March 12 in Los Angeles. Earlier today the youth said "I not only thought about the death penalty—I dreamed about it."

Hester had asked Sheriff Houston Walling to take him to the district attorney's office so that he could "clear up some things up." After his appearance at James' office he made the statement and signed it.

In an interview with Jack Proctor, Cleburne newspaperman, the teenage convict said "My life was at stake; I had to frame it."

He also told Proctor "I wanted to clear the name of Dr. Lord because I really liked the old man."

In his voluntary statement, Hester also repudiated further testimony he had given at the trial. He said that he was not at the farm home the night before the slaying and admitted, as state witnesses had said, that he was in it. Worth that night and telephoned a girl friend there.

The statement also said that he had not met Dr. Lord in a theater nor had Dr. Lord suggested unnatural sex acts when they met. Hester had testified during the trial. Hester said in his statement that he first met Dr. Lord when he walked past the educator's home, that he asked Dr. Lord for a ride.

Economy Vote In Senate To Go To Another Balloting

WASHINGTON, May 2.—(AP)—Senate Democrats today forced a new test on the economy vote that sent a $2,400,000,000 appropriations bill back to committee last week with instructions to cut it.

Senator Green (D-R.I.) who did not vote then, made a formal motion to reconsider that action. A vote on Green's motion will come later, probably after considerable debate.

Last week a solid line of 38 Republicans, aided by eight Democrats, piled up a 44 to 37 vote for the economy move.

Senator McKellar (D-Tenn.), chairman of the appropriations committee, decided to seek a second test because 15 senators did not vote, including nine Democrats.

Soldier To Face Charge Of Murder

STUTTGART, May 2.—The judge advocate section of the American military post of Stuttgart said today a charge of premeditated murder is being prepared against Recruit Russell Jones, 22, of Fall River, Mass., for the killing of three Germans.

Military police headquarters said the soldier ran amok yesterday and killed a German motor pool guard, a German girl and a German passerby.

Unity Is Absent—

May Day 1949—60th anniversary of a day proclaimed to demonstrate unity among the world's workers—showed instead the split between the Communist and non-Communist world.

The Soviet Union, which has adopted the international observance as its great national holiday, yesterday put on a spectacular display of military might in Moscow's Red Square.

Prime Minister Josef Stalin, with members of the politburo, took the salute. Cheering thousands passed in review while military aircraft including a strong display of speedy jet planes flashed overhead.

Defense Minister Alexander Vassilevsky trumpeted more charges of "American war plans" and continued Soviet denunciations of the Atlantic pact.

All Communist-dominated lands flexed their muscles in similar, but smaller, demonstrations.

Parades and mass rallies filled the streets of Warsaw, Prague, Bucharest, Budapest, and Sofia, capital of the Balkan countries. Speakers pledged support for Russia.

Traffic Suspended From Shanghai On Final Rail Escape

Communists Report Wiping Out Eight Nationalist Armies

SHANGHAI, May 2.—(Censored)—Traffic was reported suspended today on the last railway escape from Communist-menaced Shanghai to south China.

Inside the city, the chaotic money market crashed at mid-day after garrison headquarters outlawed free trading in prewar silver dollars on threat of death—obviously a measure of great desperation.

The Red radio last night said eight Chinese government armies were "wiped out" and parts of four other armies "routed" in the Nanking-Shanghai-Hangchow area. (A Chinese army is usually 20,000 men). The Red broadcast claimed a "great victory" was not confirmed by government sources.

The semi-official Chinese central news agency said rail service had been suspended between Hangchow and Nanchang. Hangchow is a seaport and communications center 100 air miles southwest of Shanghai. Nanchang, capital of Kiangsi province, is about 280 miles farther south-west.

(This was the first indication that the Communist offensive might have penetrated so deeply into south China. Previous dispatches have indicated the main Red thrust was aimed at Hangchow.)

A Shanghai garrison communiqué said Nationalist forces still

Burglars Plan Sunday Menu, Obtain Supplies

Sombody had bacon for breakfast and chicken for dinner Sunday, and enough money with which to pay a person for washing the dishes.

According to the police department burglars entered the grocery store of Ernest Copley, East Seventh Avenue and Frey Street, over the weekend and took, among other things, four dressed chickens, about seven pounds of bacon.

The burglars, who pried a front door, also took several cartons of cigarettes and an amount of money not revealed.

Tornadoes Strike Southwest With Severe Damage

Nine Killed and 100 Injured By Series Week-End Storms

By the Associated Press

A two-day series of tornadoes lashed parts of the South and the Southwest Saturday and Sunday, killing nine persons and injuring almost 100.

Damage was roughly estimated at $2,000,000.

Mississippi and Louisiana were hit by tornado winds yesterday. Twisters struck in Oklahoma and Texas Saturday. Western Kansas also received minor damage Saturday.

Oklahoma took the worst beating. Sixteen tornadoes struck in widely scattered parts of the state, causing five deaths. Approximately 75 persons were injured, with at least 50 being hurt in a vicinity of Norman, Okla., site of the University of Oklahoma.

Four persons died in Texas. The tornado hit in the northeast part of the state.

Nine persons were injured in a tornado which slashed through an oil field and three plantations near Homer in Northeast Louisiana. Of the nine, all negroes, two were in serious condition. Five homes and four barns were demolished.

In Central and Northeast Mississippi, high winds damaged buildings, uprooted trees and cut power lines. No casualties were reported.

Livestock Group Opposes Truman's Farm Program

WASHINGTON, May 2.—(AP)—The American National Livestock Association today declared its opposition to the Truman administration's proposed new farm program. The association said it dislikes "government subsidies and controls."

"We are opposed to over-all grants of authority that inevitably will tend more and more to regiment the entire industry. Aside from our belief that such subsidies and controls are fundamentally unsound, the very nature of our industry is such that it does not lend itself to operation under such controls."

The administration has proposed that the government abandon present price support on many crops. These supports aim to maintain farm prices by holding crop surpluses out of the markets. The government either buys the surplus or makes loans on surplus stored and withheld from the market.

Secretary of Agriculture Brannan has suggested instead that these crops be permitted to sell at what the market will pay. The government then would make "prorated" payments directly to farmers to make up the difference between the average price in the market and the price the government considers to be a fair return to the farmer.

Smith outlined these objections:

1. Proposed limits to such support would exclude about 25 percent of cattle production.
2. Livestock producers believe "the program would be a disaster."
3. If so, a reduction of acres planted to corn and other cattle feeds might be necessary.
4. It seems inevitable that such a program "would add tremendously to already heavy tax burden."
5. Citing the heavy tax burden of meat, Smith said "instead of moving in the direction of production controls as this program does, it would seem more equitable to give the American producer a larger share of the American market and avoid any possibility of making production controls necessary."

Israeli Soldiers And Arabs Clash Over Armistice

TEL AVIV, Israel, May 2.—(AP)—Israeli troops battled Arabs in a short but sharp encounter last night between Jerusalem and Bethlehem.

Sirens blacked out the Holy City. The reason for the blackout was not made clear. The only firing heard was of mortars and small arms.

Jewish sources said the skirmish began when some Arabs refused to get out of a strategic position under terms of the armistice agreement with Trans-Jordan. How the blackout order came about no official would say.

Red Assault On British Ship Is Said Accidental

SINGAPORE, May 2.—(AP)—A high British naval authority said here today he is convinced the Chinese Communist attack on the British ship Amethyst April 22 was not deliberate.

The informant told a news conference he believes the attack was caused by lack of discipline among Communists lining the bank of the Yangtze river, or by excitement among the troops.

British Asked To Close Consulates

BUCHAREST, May 2.—(AP)—Romania today asked Britain to close its consulates in Bucharest and Romania outside this capital city.

There were indications similar requests soon might be made to Italy and Turkey, the only other non-Soviet bloc powers with provincial consulates in Romania.

American, British, French Delegates In Private Parley

"Common Plan" Of Procedure Believed Under Discussion

NEW YORK, May 2.—(AP)—Envoys of the United States, Britain and France met privately today to work out the next phase of the dealings with Russia on lifting the Berlin blockade.

The meeting was called by Philip C. Jessup, U. S. ambassador-at-large, after a weekend of conferences in Washington with Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

Sir Alexander Cadogan represented Britain and Jean Chauvel sat in for France.

No meeting with Russia's Jakob A. Malik has been set.

The British and French delegates have been kept in the dark about Jessup's talks with Malik about lifting the 10-month-old blockade. Today's discussions were expected to be a common plan of procedure for the three powers.

A meeting between Jessup and Malik, or a meeting of all four big power representatives may be arranged after today's session.

One point to be discussed this afternoon is a date for lifting the Berlin blockade. Another is the setting of a date for a meeting of the four-power council of foreign ministers.

A date for a meeting of the council is one of Russia's conditions for lifting the blockade. A date for lifting the blockade may be set this week.

Jessup has been carrying on closed door discussions with Malik on the Berlin blockade for more than two months.

A British foreign office spokesman said "certain tentative dates have been mentioned" in the Jessup-Malik conversations here.

In Paris, foreign minister Robert Schuman said "he looks" more and more for a meeting of the foreign ministers this spring.

In Berlin, Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American military governor, said that even if Russia adopts a reasonable attitude toward the Communists' eventual aim still is world domination.

He said he expected the Russians might be more reasonable in the proposed "four meeting" than they were in the past, but added: "We should remember even if a solution for the entire German problem is eventually reached that does not change Communism. Communism's objective remains the same—world domination."

House At Austin Votes Funds For Conserving Soil

AUSTIN, Tex., May 2.—(AP)—The house decided today to spend $2,500,000 annually on soil conservation.

The original bill had called for a five million dollar annual expenditure. The house appropriations committee cut that figure to $1,800,000.

But the house upped that a million on the floor, adopting an amendment offered by Rep. Lamar Zavaly of Temple, 10-25. Final passage of the bill was 128-1.

"We wouldn't oppose 20 million spent on soil conservation," said Rep. Jim Norton of Nacogdoches. "But, gentlemen, you know our shortage. We want to give as much as we possibly can and take care of other requests." He asked that the lowest figure be kept.

Rep. W. R. Chambers of May said the appropriation was not "just a gift to farmers; it's a revolving fund and farmers will pay for use of the equipment purchased in the 150 soil conservation districts."

A similar measure is pending in the senate.

The senate this morning adopted a resolution calling for a firmer amendment against Russia. The resolution was approved by the house last week.

Probe Of Sales To Armed Service Personnel Is Due

WASHINGTON, May 2.—(AP)—The house armed services committee wants to know why soldiers and sailors can buy girls' nightgowns, expensive jewelry and television sets tax-free and at almost wholesale prices.

It ordered the start of an investigation today. Plans are to make a top-to-bottom study of the more than half a billion dollar business of army post exchanges and navy ship stores.

Public hearings will begin in two weeks before a subcommittee headed by Rep. Philiplin (D-Mass.).

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) ordered the probe after civilian retailers' "savage reaction" to the stores' expenses are met from government funds appropriated by congress.

There are three classes of items sold, with limits on some of them.

Pact Said Result Of Red Reaction To Marshall Plan

WASHINGTON, May 2.—(AP)—Robert Lovett, former undersecretary of state, said today the North Atlantic treaty grew out of Russia's "savage reaction" to the European recovery plan.

Lovett came here before the senate foreign relations committee to tell them of the reasons behind the security alliance. Opening the second week of hearings on the proposed 12-nation pact, Lovett declared:

"The policies and practices pursued by the Soviet government and the Communist parties subservient to it since the end of the hostilities had created a sense of insecurity in the free countries of Western Europe x x x.

"This general sense of insecurity had been intensified by the savage reaction of the Soviet government to the Marshall Plan discussion program of cooperative undertaking."

Lovett said it became obvious that recovery in Europe could not be fully achieved without restoring a "sense of security" against aggression.

"It seemed hardly logical," he said, to make the effort required under this (recovery) program and to ignore the possibility that if this great enterprise was not given the protection that it needed, its whole aim could be defeated."

NO "FREE" MEDICINE

Congress has begun what promises to be a long and stormy consideration of proposals for some sort of national health improvement program. In the coming months much talk will be heard for and against "free medicine." The first thing to remember about these proposals is that their benefits most definitely would not be free.

Under the administration plan, persons receiving the benefits would pay for them with a direct payroll tax, on a basis like that of the Social Security tax. Under some of the other plans everybody would pay, whether eligible for any benefit, or not, through ordinary taxes, since the plans would be financed out of general federal and state funds. One of the very debatable points about the whole idea is which of these two general methods of paying for public medical services would be the better. Whichever might be adopted, the medical benefit would be paid for, by taxes of one kind or another.

The word "free," used with the administration proposals, means that persons receiving medical attention in most cases would not receive any direct bills for it. In the other proposals it means that persons not able to pay the normal cost of medical services would receive attention, to varying degrees according to the different proposals, partly or wholly at public expense. Intelligent consideration of the health plans on their own merits without regard to political points of view is greatly needed. Such impartial consideration will be helped by remembering that they propose not free medicine but only different means of paying for medicine.

FRESH APPROACH

The choice of Vice-Admiral Alan G. Kirk to be ambassador to Moscow has emphasized the fresh approach the United States is prepared to make to relations with Russia. It has been suggested that one of Admiral Kirk's most valuable qualifications for the post is the fact that he has had no previous dealings with Russian leaders in unpleasant situations. Thus he can go to Moscow to make new contacts, free from the ranking of past irritations, with a fresh mental attitude and a full stock of patience.

The choice calls attention to an advantage which the United States has, in the long run, in difficult negotiations with a totalitarian government such as that of Russia. We are able to send fresh leaders into the negotiations at will, because the nature of our government contemplates change from time to time, without loss of prestige for anyone. The nature of our government also made it possible for the previous ambassador, Lieut. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, to request relief from the job when he thought it wise to do so, without any loss of dignity or standing.

Such things are not possible for the government of Russia. It depends on continuity of policies and leaders. To change an official, except to promote him to a more exalted post, is to indicate that he has been wrong, and it is a dangerous thing to be wrong in a totalitarian regime. In such an atmosphere it is unthinkable that an official request his withdrawal from a post which is overtaxing his endurance or where he cannot act according to his own convictions. It has often been remarked that the Russians, being Oriental in nature, have greater patience than Americans.

TYRANNY.

The Tyrant says to all: "Obey! Who dares to teach a better way Or would to least command defy Before the morning sun shall die!"

By force and fear the tyrant rules; At doors of churches and of schools, Sets brutal guards lest growing youth Be led to God and search for truth.

How strange that man can dare with might The lives of those he rules to blight, And do with such a fearful plan What God refused to do to man!

The Great Creator left man free To find and shape his destiny, And in His boundless love declined To shackle either heart or mind.

END OF A DYNASTY

The swift pace of events after peace negotiations were broken off in China seems to leave little room for doubt: that the Communist armies will be able to overrun most of the nation. It is possible to interpret two significant occurrences as indicating that the Nationalists are through with serious military operations.

The Nationalist armies were pulled back from the Yangtze River with no effort made to hold that natural barrier protecting South China. Neutral observers were inclined to regard any stand along the river as hopeless. Nevertheless it is an obstacle which could have been crossed only at terrible cost if it had been defended by determined troops. The determination to defend it appears to have been lacking. The other significant item is that the government, when it withdrew from Nanking for the second time in little more than a decade, this time moved southward to Canton, with Formosa in mind as an eventual haven, rather than westward to the greater security but more grim and comfortless surroundings of Chungking. The will of Nationalist leaders to endure another siege behind the barrier of the Yangtze gorges apparently also is lacking.

These interpretations may easily be wrong. But if they are right the onlooking world is witnessing the collapse of another dynasty, that of the Kuomintang, in bloody confusion which rivals that attending the end of the Manchu dynasty less than forty years ago. From this distance, the outlook for a Red dynasty appears no better than was that of the Kuomintang.

THE NEAREST DOCTOR

Concentration of doctors in centers of population and shortage of them in more sparsely settled areas seem to be the general condition. A Cleveland newspaper writer, reporting on a study in Ohio suggests that Ohioans will find it much better to get sick in one of the three largest cities, Cleveland, Cincinnati and Columbus, than elsewhere in the state. Of the estimated 7,500 doctors in Ohio, two-thirds live in those three cities, but less than half of the people of the state live in them. Obviously medical services in other sections are more overworked than those in the three large cities.

If all who would like to study medicine in Ohio were able to do so, the problem would soon be solved. Last year 7,655 students tried to get into the three medical schools in Ohio, but only 294 were admitted. Presumably those who were admitted were the pick of the applicants, but doubtless many others would have made excellent physicians if they had got in. Lack of training facilities makes it necessary for the schools to enforce rigid entrance requirements.

The situation revealed in this comparison of figures in Ohio is duplicated in many states. If any federal program should be initiated to increase the number of persons receiving medical care, the shortage of doctors would become even more pronounced. Apparently a primary need is for means of taking care of more students in medical schools.

Rangers Rally In Sixth To Capture Seven-Inning Tilt

By CLYDE E. JOHNSON

Sun Sports Staff.

Although out-played in every way, Kilgore Junior College rallied in the sixth to eke out a 2-1 victory over Navarro's Bulldogs at Territo Park Friday night.

Southpaw Bill Reed fanned 14 and held the Rangers to five hits in the seven-inning game. Littlefield, the winning hurler, struck out six, and allowed eight hits.

When the sixth frame opened, Ranger Leftfielder Hamon paved the way for Kilgore's victory by getting base off catcher, Bill Hamon's wild throw to first. Hamon's heavy swing had tapped the ball only a few feet from the plate. He darted around to third when Hopson threw over first baseman Jack Holland.

Littlefield, next up, fanned, and Bain then bunted, scoring Hamon. The marker tied Navarro, who had tallied in the third.

Shortstop Frost, the plate for the winning run, Caln rapped out a double far into right field. Shortstop Frost counted for Navarro, getting on base when a fast ground ball slipped by Bain. Frost dashed to second as the roll ball continued through the hands of two outfielders.

Charlie Smith's base hit to second base scored Frost for the Bulldogs' sole tally.

In the seventh inning, Navarro's Reed fanned 10 of 13 men who came to bat.

Navarro failed to hit in a pinch; 10 men were left on bases.

KATHERINE REGISTER NAMED SWEETHEART OF CORSICANA HI-Y AT ANNUAL BANQUET

Katherine Register was named the sweetheart of the Corsicana Hi-

Y Club Friday night.

The recognition came amid roses and orchids and candle-lit tables at the Corsicana Country Club, where the Hi-Y boys and their dates gathered for the annual Sweet-heart's Banquet.

Tom Eady, named man of the year by Corsicana Jaycees recently, was the main speaker. He told the youngsters that "life can be lived on a high plane, like an aviator flying above the weather," and gave them the formula for doing it.

He said that "life is a journey and you must be happy, to enjoy yourself, to learn how to value

a thing, to avoid pretense, to worry little, and to learn discipline.

Happiness, he said, is "a delicate balance between what you are and what you have." "Make yourself busy doing something worth while,

and happiness will come to you."

"If you find yourself off that high plane and down in the clouds, take the first turn to the right,"

Eady closed.

John Custer, vice president of the Hi-Y club, acted as master of ceremonies, and Ben Sharpley gave the opening prayer.

Mrs. R. N. Elliott, of the high school faculty, provided clever variety entertainment, giving "The

New Methods Of Attack On TB Are Topic Of Study

DETROIT, May 2.—(AP)—New lines of attack on the tuberculosis bug—the No. 1 disease killer of Americans between the ages of 16 and 34—were outlined today.

Research aimed at the greater control of the germ was described at the opening of the 45th annual meeting of the National Tuberculosis Association—the organization you support with purchases of "Christmas Seals."

Projects outlined include: 1—A search for chemicals that might further weaken the armor of the tissue barriers in which the germs are housed in the tuberculosis patient. This would make it easier for drugs like streptomycin to reach the bugs and do their stuff.

2—A checkup on the hereditary characteristics of the tuberculosis germ—to determine why it is that certain strains resist to drugs, particularly streptomycin, even though the germs are strains that can be cured by drugs.

3—An attempt to determine constitutional factors responsible for resistance and susceptibility to tuberculosis infection. Rabbits of known resistance to the disease will be bred for these studies.

The association opened its four-day deliberations on this keynote: During the 45 years of the association's existence, tuberculosis has dropped from No. 1 to No. 4 among the disease-causers of death in the United States but "There is still much work to be done," declared a statement by Dr. Herbert L. Mantz of Kansas City, Mo., president of N.T.A. "As we realize when the list of causes of death on different age groups places tuberculosis first among disease killers of young people between 16 and 34."

NEW YORK, May 2.—(AP)—The "American Mother of 1949" won another title on her arrival today from Fort Worth, Texas.

"She's also the sweetest of mother-in-laws," a daughter-in-law remarked as Mrs. Pearl A. Gillis, 61, of Fort Worth arrived by plane.

An excited granddaughter, four-year-old Carol Ann Gillis, rushed up, and asked:

"Are you the American mother of the year, Grandma?"

"Yes, dear," Mrs. Gillis replied.

as she hugged Carol Ann and a grandson, Don Gillis, Jr., nine, children of Mr. and Mrs. Don Gillis of Forest Hills, Queens.

Mrs. Gillis was accompanied by her husband, Earle, a post office clerk on vacation. It was her first flight and their first trip to New York. She will attend a reception in her honor Wednesday night and on Mother's Day, May 8, she will speak at exercises at Central Park.

In addition to members of her family, Mrs. Gillis was greeted at the field by Mrs. Norman Vincent Peale, national chairman of the American Mothers committee of the Golden Rule foundation, which sponsored the selection. She presented Mrs. Gillis with a bouquet of snapdragons.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

General Electric Opposes Demands For More Wages

NEW YORK, May 2.—(AP)—The General Electric Company says that fourth-round wage increases and other benefits sought by the CIO would stimulate layoffs and unemployment in the electrical manufacturing industry.

G-E, which traditionally sets the wage policy in the industry, labeled the CIO program inflationary. G-E had indicated opposition to wage cost increases even before the CIO United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America announced its proposals last Wednesday. The union represents about 100,000 G-E employees.

Lemuel R. Boulware, vice-president in charge of employee relations, said yesterday G-E will resist the union demands "under current conditions."

The union had said it would seek combinations of pay raises, pension improvements, shorter hours and other benefits equivalent to a total of $500 a year more for each of 600,000 members in the industry.

Lawmaker Speaks On Valley Project For Irrigation

WASHINGTON, May 2.—(AP)—Texas can grow and prosper only as its natural resources are developed, Rep. Bentsen (D-Tex.) said in a radio discussion of the proposed Rio Grande gravity canal.

Bentsen, of McAllen, said the Gravity Canal Irrigation project, to cost $128,552,000, has been approved by the bureau of reclamation. The project will bring water to the valley before it goes to the President and finally to congress for approval.

Bentsen was speaking last night over the weekly transcribed Texas Forum of the Air. It is conducted by Rep. Wright Patman of Texas.

The canal program plan is to take water from the Rio Grande between the Falcon dam, now under construction, and the U. S. and Mexican Water Treaty. The government is putting up $54,765,000 for the system. Farmers irrigating new land would pay $2,448,000 of the remainder and farmers operating old irrigated farms would furnish the other $50,445,000.

Bentsen, a member of the House Public Lands committee, said, "The project certainly deserves the serious consideration of the valley farmers."

"The lower Rio Grande Valley is one of the richest garden spots in the world with water, but the present supply is none too certain. The uncertain, erratic flow of the Rio Grande makes pumping costly and hazardous."

U.S. Asks Speedy Action On Taking Israel Into UN

NEW YORK, May 2.—(AP)—The United States urged the U. N. general assembly today to speed action on Israel's application to join the United Nations.

Before the assembly was a U. S. proposal to take Israel's membership bid for the political committee, where it has been sidetracked by debate over disposal of Italy's prewar colonies.

American officials fear action may be postponed until fall of the assembly adjourns its special spring session soon. The U. S. has asked that the Israel petition be transferred to the assembly's special political committee, where hearings could begin tomorrow.

Cancer Campaign Slated Be Ended During This Week

Final compilation of the returns from the Cancer campaign in Navarro county is scheduled this week. W. E. McKinney, county chairman, announced Monday.

He did not have complete returns Monday.

"Many persons have indicated they would mail in checks to us," McKinney stated, "and we hope they will do so at once so that we can determine the final figure secured," he added.

Reports from a number of communities outside of Corsicana have not been received.

Several days this week will be used in winding up the campaign, although it was slated to end Saturday night, April 30.

Most of the money secured in this annual campaign is used for research and hospitalization in Texas. McKinney explained.

Navarro county's quota is $3,000.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 2.—(AP)—The stock market held a mixed pattern today in quiet trading. Movement in either direction was small.

The volume was around 750,000 shares.

There was a slight edge visible on the upside, although the plus signs could hardly be called a trend.

Steels perked up slightly after stockholders of United States Steel Corp. approved a 3-for-1 stock split at the annual meeting.

On the higher side were Standard Oil (NJ), Texas Co., Union Pacific, Nickel Plate, U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet and Tube, General Motors, Firestone, Sears Roebuck, Douglas Aircraft, Western Union, Air Reduction, Du Pont, American Tobacco, Liggett and Myers, Richfield Oil, and Republic Pictures.

Lower were Southern Railway, Illinois Central, U. S. Rubber, Woolworth, Consolidated Edison, American Smelting, Calumet and Hecla, American Can, and International Paper.

Navarro Bulldogs Have Couple Hard Contests Slated

Navarro Junior College faces perhaps the toughest two days in its zone baseball race Monday and Tuesday when the Bulldogs play two of the toughest teams in the circuit.

The Bulldogs are slated for a game Monday night in Meridian against the Clifton boys, a hard-hitting team that the Bulldogs trimmed 8-4 in their first meeting here.

Tuesday afternoon at 3 p. m. the Bulldogs make a stand at Terrio Park against the Panola Ponies, who are tied with the locals for the lead in the zone.

Navarro must win both games to stay in the running for the zone title. Bill Reed will probably pitch for the locals in Meridian tonight, Coach Guyle Akridge said. Lloyd Longino may get the starting nod Tuesday afternoon here against Panola.

New Test Case On Segregation Gets Court Rejection

WASHINGTON, May 2.—(AP)—The supreme court today refused to consider a new test case against segregation by property in white residential developments covered by restrictive covenants.

The high tribunal May 3, 1948, ruled lower courts could not enforce similar restrictive agreements on properties in St. Louis, Detroit and the District of Columbia.

Later, the Maryland Court of appeals cited the supreme court ruling in refusing to enforce a covenant against two negro couples who bought properties in a development in Anne Arundel County, Md. The development is called "Beachwood Forest". The covenant prohibits sale of properties to negroes, Chinese and Japanese.

Six white property owners in the development asked the Supreme court to rule that the Maryland court misapplied the 1948 ruling. They said facts in the Maryland case are different from those involved in the 1948 ruling. Particularly, they emphasized a contention that the negroes in the Maryland case had full knowledge of the restriction before they bought properties.

Cancer Is Second Cause Of Death Among Children

Cancer is now the second ranking cause of death among children, it was pointed out Friday by W. E. McKinney, county chairman for the Texas Division, American Cancer Society.

"Cancer has long been considered a disease among old people," McKinney said. "However, this vicious enemy of man attacks young and old alike. At the five to nine-year age period among children it leads all other diseases as a killer."

In Navarro county, it was learned, 37 persons died of cancer in 1948 out of 411 deaths, as reported to the county clerk.

Parents and teachers should give increasing attention to abnormal signs and symptoms which may mean cancer in children. Unusual mental or emotional behavior, it was pointed out, may give the first clues to brain tumors in children.

Navarro county's quota in the current cancer fund campaign is $3,000, of which less than half has been secured.

Tigers Plaster 27-4 Setback On Hillsboro Eagles

Corsicana's Bengals buried the Hillsboro Eagles, 27-4, in Hillsboro Friday afternoon in their first baseball game in two weeks and cleared the decks for a game Saturday afternoon in Temple against the Temple Wildcats.

The Tigers erased an early deficit and scored 16 runs in the third frame, batting around almost three times before the Eagles could retire them. From then on it was coasting for Coach Boyd Payne's crew.

Walter Bond and Jerry Caton split pitching duty, with the former starting and going three frames, and the latter finishing the last four.

Batting honors went to Wayne Gantz, who collected three hits in three trips, and to Charles Bristow, who blasted the only home run of the contest.

Early jitters that caused the Tigers to make three bobbles in the second frame gave the Eagles their early lead Friday.

The Tigers were scheduled to meet the Wildcats in Temple today at 2:30. It is a make-up game from the first half of the district schedule.
